We are Wilderness Bar and Kitchen and our mission is to provide our guests with the very best in flavour. We have taken many steps to ensure that everything we offer from craft beer to natural wine and draught cocktails is of the highest quality.

Every day we freshly squeeze our juices, prepare our many cocktail ingredients in house and batch and carbonate our own keg cocktails.

These cocktails start their lives in our chilled cellar and are charged with different gasses to not only preserve the flavour but to infuse different textures. After a few days all the gas has dissolved and they are ready to pour on the bar, directly into your glass. This helps us produce a tasty, cold and consistent product without delay.

We search out characterful wines for our list and work with a small number of suppliers who source only well-made, honest, natural and biodynamic wines from producers whose wine-making practices are carried out with love and care. We offer a large number by the glass and will always have something new and delicious open for you to try so please ask if you would like to explore.

Our beer selection has been carefully selected to host a range of different styles and flavours from around the UK and the world.
